

Mumbo Island

Wilderness Adventures

The camp is perched on rocks high above the water and blends in perfectly to create a place of rustic charm and minimal impact. There is a dining area, bar and water sport gazebo, all of timber, thatch and canvas, and all adhering to the principles of eco-architecture. Unlike most island destinations in the region, Mumbo Island has never been populated by humans and is still in its natural state. This, together with the focus on non-motorised water sports, makes Mumbo Island ideal for the active outdoors enthusiast.

The superb tented camp, accommodating 14 guests, comprises tastefully furnished, spacious tents with hot bucket showers and 'eco-loos'. Tucked into the lush foliage, each tent is fully furnished with its own shaded view-deck and hammock.

The most popular activities here are snorkelling through the crystal-clear water and lazing in a hammock or in the 'chill-out' area, contemplating the stunning scenery. Other activities include diving (Mumbo is a PADI registered resort, offering beginner, advanced and specialty courses, as well as gear hire and casual dives), swimming, kayaking, and birdwatching. Guests have the option of boating or paddling, exploring the granitic islands in a freshwater Rift Valley lake.

Photography credit: Mike Myers