

Sanctuary Zambezi Kulefu Camp

Sanctuary Zambezi Kulefu Camp is an authentic safari camp, gathered around an acacia tree -shaded Bedouin-style central tent. The Lower Zambezi, the park in which the camp is located, is dominated by the Zambezi River which channels game into a narrow floodplain, resulting in unparalleled viewing opportunities. Arriving at the camp by boat from the local airstrip is a thrill as there is usually plenty of game to see on the way, and travelling to camp becomes part of the safari adventure.

The seven spacious tents are set on teak platforms made from commercially grown forests and all have spectacular views over the river. Each tent has its own lounge area and viewing deck. Carved wooden tables and woven chairs complement the four-poster beds and canvas walls - this is camping taken to its most luxurious heights.

Morning and evening game drives in open 4 x 4 vehicles are spectacular with chances to see elephant, lion, wild dog and hippo. The park is also home to a population of honey badgers. One of the most interesting ways of seeing the game at Sanctuary Zambezi Kulefu is from the water. Sanctuary has specially designed flat-bottomed motorboats that take guests up close to the game in great comfort. Watching the sun set from the boat is the perfect opportunity to marvel at the untamed wild area and its beauty and diversity. Another exhilarating experience is canoeing on the Lower Zambezi River where Sanctuary Retreats' experienced guides lead canoe safaris through the reed beds, byways and channels for intimate encounters with hippos and waterbuck. If guests get tired of paddling, motorboats can always tow their canoe back to camp. Walking in the Lower Zambezi bush is quiet, informative, exciting and also remarkably rewarding. Walking safaris are conducted by a professional guide and an armed National Parks scout. Sanctuary also has all the fishing tackle guests could possibly need and the guides to show them how to use it. Expert anglers will need no convincing but if guests only go fishing once in their lifetime, this is the place to do it. Fishing trips for game fish are on a catch and release basis.
